Peacemaking Circles

We are intimately involved in the current healing of the incarceration system through the use of Peacemaking Circles. Most would call this restorative justice, but I am reluctant to put a new label on an ancient process.

The Peacemaking Circle process comes to us through Saroem Phoung who was taught by the Tagish and Tlingit First Nation people of the Yukon Territories.

You can learn more about the King County Peacemaking Coordinating Team at kingcountyPCT.org.

And more!

Do you see something missing that you'd like to experience? Please talk to a chaplain and they will get the information to us. We will see what we can do within the confines of the rules and regulations.

Youth Chaplaincy

The Youth Chaplaincy Coalition

Vision

Embracing every youth as good and beautiful, we envision a world where the whole child is accepted and loved for who they are.

Mission

The mission of the Youth Chaplaincy Coalition is to provide quality, innovative, and stable programming to court-involved youth.

Values

The mission is attained by adherence to the values of listening and loving.

Our Programs

Chaplaincy

Chaplains are really great listeners. Overall chaplains provide a non-anxious listening presence. We listen from a spiritual standpoint that is looking for signs of life that you may not see and we listen with an open heart that meets you on your spiritual path. We leave denominational and religious differences at the door. Chaplains are present on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays. If you have an urgent spiritual need, please have your staff call or text the chaplaincy office at 425.531.1756.

Mentoring

Every Monday and Thursday in the Library, there will be between 2-4 volunteers here to talk to you about anything on your mind: current issues, long-term goals, priority setting and/or next steps. Each session lasts around 30-40 minutes. You will meet one-on-one with a mentor and talk -- this time is completely judge-free and catered to you! Mentoring is a secular program which means it is not focused on religion or spirituality. The focus of mentoring is walking with you on your path.

Worship

Worship services happen each Sunday in library from 7:00—9:00. It happens in shifts so not everyone goes at once. Worship features a variety of church communities that come from all over King County.

REST Retreats

REST Retreats happen every other month on a Saturday and Sunday. REST stands for Real Escape from Sex Trafficking. The retreats are focused on recognizing trafficking when you see it, empowering youth to help others escape sex trafficking, and in learning about gender equity. We use the CAASE curriculum that is also used by Seattle Against Slavery (SAS)

SoulCollage Retreats

SoulCollage is an art process to explore the many parts of who we are. Do you have an inner prankster? Make a collage in honor of the prankster! An inner teacher? Honor the teacher! Perhaps you'd like to honor a person who is special to you—an auntie or hero. SoulCollage lets you create and explore the many parts of you.

“If we do not transform our pain, we will most assuredly transmit it.” - Richard Rohr
